From the Editor's Desk…

I am delighted to present to you four articles, and two book reviews in Volume 4, Issue 2 of Great Lakes Herald. Many thanks to the authors for submitting their fine work as well as the many reviewers who contributed their intellectual energy toward the journal's success so far.

Successful accomplishment of the journal's mission depends upon authors' interest in submitting their work to Great Lakes Herald. We pledge to do our best to review all submissions promptly. We are eager to become a leading outlet for writings based on research evidence.
