Students at the Great Lakes Institute of Management are getting ready to soon taste those famous German cakes with the business school joining hands with HHL Leipzig Graduate School of Management.

HHL Leipzig is among the top business schools in Germany and is ranked 28th globally in the FT Rankings.

The agreement of cooperation between the two business schools enables student exchange from both institutes and allows students to spend one semester at the partner institute. The tuition fee is waived for exchange students, while the living expenses need to borne by the students.

The agreement also encourages exchange of study materials and exchange of teaching staff for lectures and seminars. Under the exchange the faculty will be spending one year at Leipzig.

The faculty can also participate in research programmes. Executive students at HHL will also visit India on an immersion programme for a week.
